Execu-Care is proud to be the sole U.S. coaching and consulting company to offer professional training & development using the flying trapeze. Our 3-part approach integrates mini-lectures & interactive discussions with aerial activities to maximize learning and retention. We gladly customize our ½ day, full day and multi-day training programs to meet your pressing organizational needs or to enhance your existing leadership development initiatives.

Our Training Director Edy Greenblatt, Ph.D.

All corporate flying trapeze training programs are directed and led by Dr. Edy Greenblatt. Edy is the leading authority on using the flying trapeze for organizational development and human resource enhancement.

Edy is an educator, master coach, motivational speaker and organizational expert with an entrepreneurial approach and background. She has the unique ability to combine business acumen & intellectual capital with psycho-physical activities to create effective solutions for her clients.

Dr. Greenblatt received her master’s degree in Psychology and joint Ph.D. in Organizational Behavior from Harvard University and Harvard Business School. Her 20+ years of professional experience includes 10 years working with the flying trapeze.
